Odds and Ends.

—Spiritual circles—Whiskey rings.

—The Haytian dollar is now said to be worth only two cents in coin.

—Victo Hugo announces that his forthcoming novel is to be his greatest.

—At a late sale of curiosities in Paris two small cups and sugar pots of beautifully ornamented Sevres china realized $802.

—The most fashionable appendage to a fashionable promenade toilet is a poodle tied to a pink ribbon.

—The mania for erecting statues is epidemic in Italy. The natives of Ostia, in Maritime, having no recent great men to commemorate, are about to erect a monument to the memory of Cornelius Nepos.

—The latest invention is said to be ink made from India rubber. It has been suggested that writers inclined to "stretch a story" will make use of the article.

—Gustave Dore's "Table Vert," which excited so much admiration at the French Exhibition of pictures in the Palais de l'Industrie, last year, has been sold to an American.

—"Burleigh," of the Boston Journal, says that six cents' worth of green paint in powder used about any house will "clear the kitchen" and all its surroundings of roaches and kindred pests.

—The coast fisheries in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia are very productive this season. In some localities, five times the amount of last year's catch have been secured.

—The Paris correspondent of the London Daily News writes that an attempt is to be made to upset the will of M. Comte, the famous apostle of "positive philosophy," on the ground that he was not of sound mind. Although the will has been already "proved" and acted upon, it may yet be attacked, because the French period of limitation in such cases is fifteen years.

—A magnificent fountain, the gift of the public of Mr. Gardner, Brewer, has just been erected on the common of Boston. The original was executed from a design by Lionard for the French Exposition of 1855, of which the present fountain is a copy in bronze. It is 24 feet in height by 28 feet in diameter, and is decorated with a profusion of statuary representing mythological deities, dolphins, shells, &c.

—Fifteen years ago a man left Gardner, Me., to try his fortunes in Chicago. He had $800, which he invested in buying house lots about a mile from the center of the then city. To-day that same property would sell at auction for $250,000. The spare change he got from practicing law he put into house lots and then into a banking house, and now pays a tax upon $3,000,000 of safe investments, while he is one of the leading Republican managers of the whole Northwest.

Sam Natrix History.

BY JOSH BILLINGS.

The alligator is not a native of New England; he is too useless a critter to be born there. He belongs down South, and resides in the swamp that the copperhead dux. He lives upon raw pig, and don't hesitate to take them whole, if there don't happen to be a smaller one handy. He is also fond of a little negro once in a while, by way of fresh bite. What on earth they are good for, I don't know, unless it is to watch for pigs. Their hides can be tanned into leather, but they are as hard as a beech tree; and the leather when tanned is about as limber as a cooking stove. But one pair of boots made out of alligator will last as long as a man's name dux! The only way to wear them out is to let them away.

Alligator meat is not luscious. If you ask for it at first-class hotels they all wuz tell you "that they are just out." It tastes as I should think the beef of a mule would who had been worked forty years in a brick yard, and then been struck by lightning to get rid of him. When the alligator's mouth is wide open the head is just about in the center of his body; but they have one virtue I came near forgetting—they make a very still noise, altho they have more jaw than any other critter I know of.

These are some of the heaviest facts I have been able to gather about the alligator.

The alligator seems to be a second edition of the crocodile, made out of what was left. I think the crocodile usually lays eggs when they want some more crocodiles, but I don't know, but if they do, and I ever find the nest, and the old fellow aint on the nest, I should not hesitate to hatch out the eggs myself—with a klubb.

This is all I know present about the alligator.

It is said to be a fact that the Postmaster General has received letters asking why Petroleum V. Nasby is allowed to remain in his department while bringing odium on the administration.

The Manchester Mirror says all the indications are favorable for an immense apple crop in New Hampshire this season.

The American Cooking Stove in Court.

A T. An adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York, in the second circuit held at the City Hall, in the city of Albany, the 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1868.

PRESENT: The Hon. NATHAN K. HALL, Judge.

JACOB H. STEARNS & JOSEPH PACKARD, Jr.,

Geo. B. BULL & JOHN M. ROCKWELL, Jr.,

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed, that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringement of said Patent, No. 51,406, Dated Dec. 30th, 1865, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

Signed A. A. BOYER, Clerk.

The above was instituted for infringement of the Patent securing the manner of fitting the ash pan in the hearth of the American Cooking Stove, and for the combination of the ash pan, ash pan. We have repeatedly cautioned the public against selling or using stoves with these improvements not manufactured by us. All persons now selling or using stoves with these improvements in violation of the above injunction, without license from us, will be liable to fine and imprisonment. SHERMAN, PACKARD & CO.,

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN DENTISTRY.

The attention of the public is called to a great discovery in Dentistry.

THE GREATEST ADVANCE STEP EVER MADE IN THE ART.

The main difficulty in wearing artificial teeth is, they do not hold in their place firmly enough, and are to this day the cause of food getting under the plate while eating. I have discovered a new method of so constructing the plate on which the teeth are set that they will not start or drop while eating or speaking, neither will any particles of food get under the plate, no matter what the condition of the mouth is, which is not true of any method hitherto used.

I have secured Letters Patent for the United States, England and France.

The improvement is not in material, but in the construction, which secures the atmospheric pressure on the entire plate.

I have added the exclusive of said improvement to Dr. L. Gilman, to wit: the Counties of Franklin, Washington, Chittenden, Lamoille and Grand Isle. Those wishing to avail themselves of such improvement, will call on

Dr. L. GILMAN, VERMONT.

IMPORTANT TO STOCK GROWERS.

Blood, Beauty, Speed, Kindness and Endurance.

Those who desire to raise first-class stock, and all lovers of good horses, are respectfully informed that the Hambletonian training station, YOUNG DEXTER, stand for a limited number of mares the ending season, at the Hambleton and Stock Farm, Washington County, N. Y., season to commence on the 1st of May and to end on the 1st of September. Young Dexter was bred at Chester, Orange County, N. Y., is four years old, by Resck's Hambletonian, stands nearly 16 hands high, and is one of the best of the get of his celebrated sire, Young Dexter is a half brother to Dexter, George Wilkes, Bruno, Benito—allied to Mountain Boy—and other well known horses. Very evidently, from his size, shape, etc., Young Dexter will not only bring gentle, fine and speedy stock, but also handsome carriage and family horses as well. It is manifestly for the benefit of stock growers that they obtain not only the best and most popular blood in the country, but also that which commands the highest prices in market, and it requires no more labor or care to raise a good colt than an inferior one. It was with this view, to improve the stock of horses in Northern New York, Vermont and New Hampshire, etc., that Young Dexter was purchased by its present owner, Mr. H. C. Page, Editor of the People's Journal—the object being, at the Hambleton and Stock Farm, who are willing to undergo the care and expense necessary to the raising of good horses.

For further particulars, terms, etc., address Hambleton Stock Farm, Greenwood, Washington County, N. Y., E. G. STANTON, 215-47
